Intentional songs create a specific mindset. They do so through conscious lyric, through being short, and through being repetitive. Much like a chant they serve to get the "monkey mind" out of the way, opening the door to calmness and focus.

These original intentional songs by Mark Stanton Welch can be used:

- to create a focus;
- as joy songs for a congregation to sing before the service;
- to change a thinking pattern and, thus, a belief
- to clear the mind for a meditation or guided journey
- as a meditation intro/mind set for a reflective time in a service;
- just for singing and reflection

Volume Two Collection of over 50 lead sheets with words, chords, and melody is also available at musicforeversoul.com.

With a Swing Feel

The musical score is written on a single staff in treble clef. It begins with a key signature of one flat (Bb) and a 4/4 time signature. The tempo/style is indicated as 'With a Swing Feel'. The score is divided into measures, with measure numbers 5, 9, 14, and 17 marked at the start of their respective lines. Chord diagrams are provided above the staff for each measure, showing fingerings for the guitar. The lyrics are written below the staff, aligned with the notes. The song concludes with a double bar line and repeat dots at the end of the final measure.
